Giant Industries Clash Over Power And Ore Smelting

West Kootenay Power Company Agrees to Supply Granby Operations With Electricity So Long As Granby Ore Is Shipped to Trail for Smelting; What Would Happen to Power Supply Otherwise, Counsel Refuses to Reveal at Water Board Argument Here.

Two of the biggest industries of Western Canada locked horns before the Provincial Water Board to-day when the West Kootenay Power and Light Company announced that it would continue to supply power to the Granby Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Allenby so long as the latter shipped its concentrates to the Trail smelter for smelting. The power company declined to say what it would do if the concentrates were smelted elsewhere.

This announcement came with dramatic suddenness—just before the board reserved its ruling on the question of its power to adjudicate the power rates charged by the West Kootenay Company to consumers like the Granby Company, outside the immediate area of Rossland.

It developed that, while the board is considering this question of jurisdiction, the power contract between the West Kootenay Company and the Granby Company will expire on August 31. When it was asked what would happen after that, the power company having declared it had no power to sell electricity outside fifty miles of Rossland, B.C., counsel for the power company, said:

"We will supply the Granby Company with power as long as they ship their concentrates to the Trail smelter. While this matter is pending before the board, we will deliver the power at the present rate."

To this E. C. Mayers, K.C., counsel for Granby retorted: "Since when did (Concluded on page 15)

BIG CLEAN-UP IN VANCOUVER IS ADVOCATED

Police Inquiry Report By Lennie Disappointing, Says Ratepayers' Association

Council Requested to Act Or B.C. Attorney-General to Take Over Control

Vancouver, Aug. 29.—Expressing "keen disappointment" and "disapproval" of Commissioner H. S. Lennie's findings on the recent Vancouver police inquiry, members of the Central Ratepayers' Association of Vancouver are demanding a "wholesale clean-up" of the police situation in the city.

If the City Council is not prepared to take vigorous action, it is suggested the Attorney-General of British Columbia should be requested to take over the police administration of the city.

At a meeting of the association last night several speakers commented on the fact that major burglaries and robberies, including safecrackings, had been general in the last few months.

RESOLUTION PASSED

A resolution dealing with the police inquiry findings was passed unanimously following a motion by the association to express their keen disappointment and disapproval of the report handed in by Commissioner H. S. Lennie in connection with the recent police investigation. (Concluded on page 15)

EDMONDS FERRY SALE IS DENIED

Rumors of Purchase of Ferry Service By C.P.R. Reputed By Capt. H. Payne

Capt. Howard Payne, managing director of the Victoria-Edmonds Ferry Company, to-day made a categorical denial of reports in circulation here yesterday and to-day to the effect that the ferry City of Victoria, plying between this port and Edmonds, had been purchased by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Reports put into circulation here stated that the ferry and goodwill of the company had been purchased by the C.P.R. at a figure of $350,000 and that the service would be discontinued after September 15.

Another report, which spread rapidly, told of the amalgamation of the Victoria-Edmonds Ferry Company with the Puget Sound Navigation Company, which operates a steamer service between Seattle and this port.

Upon being notified of the rumors, Capt. H. Payne, after getting into touch with his principals, issued a prompt denial of any sale or amalgamation by his company.

Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of the B.C. Coast Service of the Canadian Pacific Railway, when informed of the reports, stated that as far as he knew there was not the slightest truth in them.

The Victoria-Edmonds ferry service was inaugurated at the commencement of the tourist season this year and proved to be an instantaneous success, large loads of passengers and automobiles having been daily transported between the two points.

PREMIER KING IS IN GENEVA

Arrives in Swiss City to Represent Canada at League of Nations Sessions

Geneva, Aug. 29 (By Canadian Press staff correspondent).—Premier King of Canada arrived here to-day to attend the September sessions of the League of Nations.

Dr. W. A. Riddell, permanent Canadian League of Nations representative, greeted Premier King when he descended from the train here with Dr. O. Skelton, Canadian Under-Secretary for External Affairs.

The train on which the Canadian Premier traveled here from Paris was almost exclusively given over to delegates to the League of Nations, including Lord Cusack, Acting British Foreign Secretary, and M. Zalesky, Foreign Minister of Poland.

Premier King expressed appreciation of the reception in honor of visiting statesmen given by President Doumergue of France last evening at the French presidential chateau.

Leather Brief Case and Diary of A. M. Scott, Former British M.P., and Body Presumably That of His Wife, Washed Ashore; Wicker Chair and Upholstery Given Up by Water Identified As That of Missing Plane at Bottom of Washington Bay Between Dungeness and Port Townsend. Second Body Reported Found.

All doubts that the Ford passenger aeroplane of the British Columbia Airways plunged into Washington Bay between Dungeness and Port Townsend with its seven occupants, were swept aside by gruesome discoveries reported to-day.

A woman's body, presumably that of Mrs. Alexander MacCallum Scott, was found in Discovery Bay.

A leather brief case belonging to Alexander MacCallum Scott, former British M.P., a passenger on the plane with his wife, were washed up on the same beach and found by a brother-in-law of Pilot Herold Walker.

The body of an unidentified man also was reported found in another message intercepted by the coast base at Port Angeles. No details were available.

Bits of upholstery and a wicker chair identified as belonging to the plane were found near the same point earlier in the day.

It is possible that the body of the machine split as it plunged nose-on into the water releasing the chair and the bodies of the seven occupants.

U.S. Coastguard patrol boats on Discovery Bay fished the message to Port Angeles of the finding of the body of the lady passenger to the U.S. Coastguard base there this afternoon. The leather brief case and diary of her husband were found by Charles Lotta of Seattle, brother-in-law of Pilot Herold Walker. It bore the official stamp and contained besides a diary, personal papers, shirts, handkerchiefs and toilet articles. The case was tagged with the card of Mr. Scott and (Concluded on page 15)

FIVE ON LOST PLANE WERE PASSENGERS

Eminent Leaders in Medicine, Politics and Business Lost Lives

Passengers carried by the lost aeroplane on her last flight were: Dr. Donald B. Holden, B.A., M.D., M.B., McGill, dean of the medical profession of Vancouver Island, who established a practice in Victoria shortly after his graduation from McGill University in 1901. He was a member of one of the United Loyalist families of Ontario, his father being a partner in the Montreal firm of Ames Holden & Company.

Dr. Holden was sixty-two years of age, and was born in Belleville, Ont. He was a member of the Canadian Medical Association, the British Columbia Medical Association, the Union Club and also a Mason.

Thomas R. Lake of Shanghai, an Eastern manager of the Union Oil Company of California. He had just arrived in Victoria from the Orient, en route to Los Angeles, and the plane had been delayed a few minutes in response to urgent requests for accommodation sent by radio from the liner Empress of Canada. Mr. Lake was a son of Simon Lake of Bridgeport Conn., the famous inventor of submarines and internal combustion engines.

Dr. Floyd D. Soveri of East Orange, N.J. He boarded the plane at Vancouver, after missing train connections to Seattle. He had been touring the Canadian West with his brother and was expected to rejoin his party at Banff.

Yale Liberals Move To Nominate MacLean To Succeed Gillis

Vancouver, Aug. 29.—The Province to-day publishes the following dispatch from Merritt:

"Dr. J. D. MacLean, former Premier of British Columbia, will re-enter the Legislature and lead the Liberal opposition as member for Yale, it is understood in Liberal circles here."

"Dr. J. D. MacLean, who is understood to be agreeable to accepting nomination if it is offered to him. Definite arrangements to this end are understood to be under way among the Liberals of the riding. Dr. Gillis's resignation, it is expected, will be filed shortly, and Dr. MacLean will be tendered the Liberal Party's support."

"That Conservatives of Yale will oppose the election of Dr. MacLean is regarded as most improbable. Leading members of the party here take the stand that the entry of the former Premier into the Legislature in a seat already won by his party should be facilitated. No move is being made to nominate a Conservative candidate in opposition to Dr. MacLean."

When Dr. Gillis's resignation is filed, it will be for the Government to fix the date of the by-election necessary to fill the vacancy in the Legislature thus created. It is anticipated here there will be no delay in the poll, and that the Liberal leader will receive election by acclamation. (Concluded on page 15)

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—The Treasury Board today reduced the interest rate on advances under the Finance Act from 5 to 4 1/2 per cent. Hon. James A. Under the provisions of the Finance Act, advances are made by the Department of Finance to the banks. At the time of the crop movement it is necessary for the banks to issue a large quantity of notes and consequently they require special advances. The reduction in the interest rate is made for the purpose of facilitating the crop movement.

PATTULLO GIVES FACTS OF LEASE

Foreshore Subject to Municipal Authority, He Points Out
Former Lands Minister Answers Vancouver Criticism

Criticism on the granting of a foreshore lease at False Creek to Miss Aviasoff by the Department of Lands just before the change of Government, is dealt with in a statement from the former Minister of Lands, T. D. Pattullo.

"A number of news items and editorials have recently appeared regarding what is known as the Miss Aviasoff Lease, False Creek," he says. "To understand the situation it is essential to know the facts," he proceeds.

"Fact 1—Any lease covering an area within the confines of a municipality issued under the General Statutes of the Province is, unless specially exempted by statute, subject to the by-laws of the municipality concerned and, therefore, controllable by that municipality within the limit of the corporate authority.

"Fact 2—The settlement of foreshore ownership in British Columbia, as between the Dominion of Canada and the Province of British Columbia, which settlement I negotiated on behalf of the Province, provided that both Governments should recognize all leases issued by each subject only to a right of review of terms and conditions.

"These two facts enable one to very easily arrive at irrefutable conclusions: namely:

(a) The Aviasoff lease is subject to clearly defined municipal authority in Vancouver.

(b) A portion of the Aviasoff lease was already under lease from the Dominion Government which the Province by agreement was bound to recognize.

"The Province newspaper in a leading editorial stated that I had signed and issued this lease since the late administration was defeated at the polls and that this action was deserving of the severest censure.

"For the information of the public let me say that I did not personally either sign or issue the lease, nor did I even know that an application for the lease was pending until I read the item in the press stating that the lease had been issued.

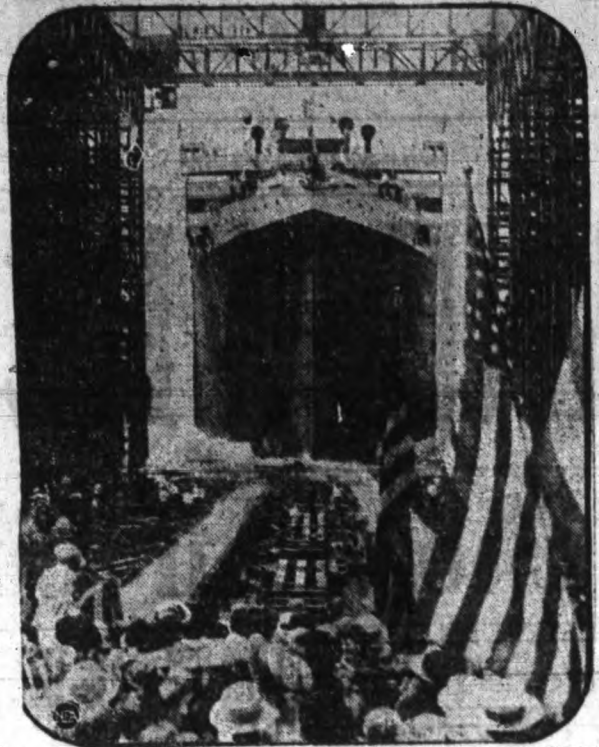

"In the administration of a department of the magnitude of the Department of Lands it is a physical impossibility for the minister to personally review in detail the thousands of transactions constantly before it. The policy that was adopted under the official of the Department of Lands to properly issue the Aviasoff lease, was one brought about through a difference of opinion between the Dominion Government and the Provincial Government as to ownership of foreshore in this Province. Whether a different policy would have been adopted had the Dominion Government been in power is a matter which is now a hypothetical question.

"There is little excuse for newspaper inaccuracy in news items which are not of a pressing nature from the standpoint of publication and which are susceptible of verification, but there is certainly no excuse for editorial dereliction in this regard. The Province newspaper had plenty of time and opportunity to ascertain the facts before writing the editorial referred to.

"A news item stated that I had broken faith with the city of Vancouver in that I had promised to make the city of any applications that might be made for foreshore within certain areas in English Bay and False Creek. The facts are that my secretary, in reply to a letter from the city solicitor of Vancouver, informed him that I would advise the city of any applications that might be made for foreshore within a short time thereafter. The superintendent of lands advised the city solicitor of some ten applications, and I am informed that the word of any kind was received from the city in respect of these applications.

"Subsequent to publication of this news item the Province newspaper stated editorially that it was customary for me to break faith with the city of Vancouver authorities. This is a false and libellous statement.

"In the recent election our administration received a considerable vote. It would appear that because I happened to be personally survive the onslaught the Province newspaper is determined to undermine public confidence in me. Over a period of years the Province newspaper has had many interviews from me. I want the Province to publish this interview; to publish it just as it is; to give it the same prominence that gave the special items which prompt this interview, and to publish it without misleading headlines or preliminary perversion in order that its readers may judge the situation for themselves."

NEWEST SEA QUEEN—Here goes the new passenger ship Virginia down to the sea from the ways of the Newport News, Va., Shipbuilding Co. She will ply between New York and California ports, through the Panama Canal.

Value for duty of fruits will be immediately investigated.

A steady persistent campaign to convince the prairie consumers of the justice of the British Columbia growers' claims is advocated. It is also argued that the whole matter must be lifted from party political areas. With dumping of U.S. fruit on prairie markets at way below the cost of production, it is claimed that B.C. fruitgrowers are unable to make a living out of the industry.

S. W. Dufos pointing out what it will mean to prairie people if they crush the B.C. fruit industry states prairie purchasers of fruit products will doubtless agree that it is more important to them that they should be assured of a permanent supply of this form of fruit products so necessary to their health and the health of their families than that they should be able to buy fruit for the next year or two at a price range that would inevitably destroy the fruit industry of British Columbia and therefore they will be called for to pay a much higher price.

DUMPING DUTY BATTLE WAGES
Government Asked to Join Forces With B.C. Fruit-growers
Campaign Aimed to Convince Prairie Consumers

Support of the British Columbia Government is sought to a vigorous campaign being waged from Vernon for effective measures to prevent the dumping of United States fruits on Canadian markets with special attention directed to the value of a steady supply of B.C. fruit to the prairies compared with the periodical dumping of U.S. fruit when that country has a surplus.

One result of the campaign so far has been the receipt of a telegram by R. H. MacDonald, of the B.C. Fruit-growers Association from the Commissioner of Customs reading as follows:

"The fine spell of weather has encouraged construction work to some extent, notwithstanding the hammer being heard up and down the valley. Mr. Shearer is getting the roof of his new home completed. Mr. J. Lewis has just finished putting a new dormer on his house, and Mr. J. E. Armistead is busy at work on the addition to his hotel.

New Chinese-Japanese Treaty Negotiations

Shanghai, Aug. 29.—The Chinese Nationalist Government yesterday issued a summary of its reply to the Japanese note of July 31, protesting against abrogation of the Chinese-Japanese treaty.

The Nationalist Government rejects Japan's contention that the old treaty has been automatically extended and reiterates the necessity of revising old treaties in view of the progress of world international relations.

The reply says the Nationalist Government's action is well founded on principles recognized in international law as well as precedent and contends it is unjustifiable the Japanese Government should falsely accuse China of bad faith.

Since the Japanese Government expressed its readiness to negotiate a new treaty, however, the reply adds "the Chinese Government expects Japan immediately to appoint its delegates so negotiations can begin for consummation of a new equal and reciprocal treaty to replace the old, obsolete one, thus enhancing friendly relations between the two countries."

Great Harvest Excursion Is Called Mistake

Gloucester, N.S., Aug. 29.—Contending Canadian labor should have preference in employment in the prairie harvest fields and stressing the belief that the ranks of unemployed in the Nova Scotia mining districts will be swelled by the recent influx of British miners to Canada, the officers of the United Mine Workers of America unanimously agreed to communicate with the Provincial and federal Governments regarding the matter.

The executive states the British coal miners, who are "accustomed to work six, seven and eight hours a day and are now to be conscripted as farm laborers, where the daily hours of labor average from twelve to fifteen hours, are being exploited, and that a natural consequence of this will be that these men, finding the work utterly unprofitable, will swell the ranks of unemployment throughout Canada."

PRINCES READY TO START TOUR

Prince of Wales and Duke of Gloucester to Visit Africa

Aberdeen, Scotland, Aug. 28.—The Prince of Wales, on his way south from Balmoral Castle where he had said farewell to the King and Queen, appeared yesterday before a big crowd here which watched him lay the cornerstone of a new hospital. It was his last official engagement in Great Britain before leaving with his brother, the Duke of Gloucester, on an African tour.

The Duke of York was another participant in the ceremony. Both received rousing receptions from the gathering.

GREAT WELCOME

The Prince of Wales had a rather rollicking time during the twelve mile drive through Aberdeen streets. An exuberant crowd broke through the cordon of police and cut off the Prince's way from the official car which followed it. He was then hemmed in by an unofficial bodyguard of cyclists, mostly messengers and tradesmen's boys, who rode behind him. The Prince appeared to enjoy this thoroughly and laughed heartily when a butcher's boy with a meat basket on the front of his bicycle continued boldly to hang on for some time to the side of the car after the rest of the escort had dispersed.

CANADA-BRITAIN DIRIGIBLE MAIL LINK PREDICTED

Montreal, Aug. 28.—A rapid mail service by airship between Great Britain and Canada was forecast yesterday by W. G. Williams, Parliamentary Secretary of the British Board of Trade. There were two great dirigible airships now under construction in Great Britain, one being built by the Government and the other by Commander Burney, he said, and the latter was likely to have its trials toward the end of the year.

"I should be surprised," Mr. Williams said, "if we do not see the development of rapid mail communications between Great Britain and Canada through airships."

Mr. Williams was speaking at the first conference of the delegates of the Empire Parliamentary Association now visiting Canada. The conference was with members of the Montreal Board of Trade, the subject being Empire transportation.

JOHN H. DAWSON DIED AT NELSON

Nelson, B.C., Aug. 28.—Being marooned on a half-submerged island in the Skeena River for three days and three nights one year ago was the experience that led directly to the death here yesterday of John Henry Dawson, aged seventy-one, British Columbia pioneer. Out of thirty years in the Province, Mr. Dawson had resided thirty-one years at New Denver and had spent a lifetime in mining. The shock of his experience left its mark on the aged man, who was ill for seven weeks preceding his death. He is survived by three children—Mrs. H. Palmer of Victoria, Cecil, residing in Seattle, and Paul, in Washington, D.C.

Gaspard Pacaud Dies in Ontario

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 28.—Gaspard Pacaud, a former member of the Legislature of Ontario, a brilliant French-Canadian speaker, former publisher and a close personal friend of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Oliver Mowat, died yesterday at his home here in his seventieth year.

NARROW ESCAPE

Toronto, Aug. 28.—Breaking his fall on a guy wire, Rudolph Jacobs, an aerial performer playing in front of the grandstand at the Toronto Exhibition, had a miraculous escape from death last night when the sixty-five-foot pole on which he was performing suddenly snapped near the top. Though he fell forty-eight feet from the guy wire and landed unconscious in a heap on the wooden platform below, he suffered only a painful chest contusion.

HEAVY LOSS IN VANCOUVER FIRE

Box Factory and Tannery
Destroyed; Other Buildings
Menaced

Vancouver, Aug. 28.—Panned by a high west wind, fire which broke out in the factory of the B.C. Box Company Limited, 298 Second Avenue West at 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, demolished the company's mill and the tannery of Pierre Paris before it was brought under control.

The plant of the A. B. Cushing Mills Limited, on the same side of Second Avenue was threatened by the flames which ate nearly through large piles of lumber between it and the box factory. The losses are estimated in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars. The box factory was valued at $200,000, and the tannery at some $50,000.

Within a few minutes of the start the flames had completely destroyed the box plant and swept on to wipe out the tannery. The fire then began to lick its way across piled lumber to the A. B. Cushing plant and the lumber stock surrounding it.

WATER ON ROOFS

Urged by the rapid spread of the flames, plants in the vicinity turned out all their workers to wet roofs and stand by for eventualities. High tension wires dropping from burning poles added to the difficulties of fire fighting and endangered the thousands of spectators who gathered to watch the blaze.

At 3:40 p.m., the fire was under control and the loss was confined to the box factory, tannery and piled lumber. A desperate fight was necessary to save nearby buildings. Eyewitnesses said the fire started in a space immediately under the roof of the box factory. It is believed that space was used for storage.

FIFTEEN AUTOS SAVED

The alarm was turned in by employees of Progressive Engineering Works, who also assisted in saving fifteen automobiles which were parked immediately across the street from the box factory.

Charles J. Graham of No. 1 firehall, was overcome by smoke, but was revived by means of a pulmonary under the direction of District Fire Chief T. H. Graves. Other firemen were treated for smoke-filled lungs.

NEW PLANS FOR BRITISH GROWTH

London, Aug. 28.—The executive of the National Liberal Federation of Great Britain will submit to the annual meeting of the party at Great Yarmouth on October 11 and 12 a number of resolutions covering almost the whole range of national affairs.

One resolution condemns the record of the Baldwin Government, which it accuses of being the only Government in Europe which has increased its post-war military expenditures. It also says the Conservatives have made numerous inroads on the system of free trade and failed to reduce the volume of unemployment.

Another resolution declares the Labor Party has proved itself impotent as the Opposition. Recommendations on the unemployment question include a resolution asserting that neither the Government nor the Labor Party has any coherent and thorough policy for reducing the volume of unemployment.

DEVELOPMENT POLICY

"A wise policy would systematically use the surplus labor now available for increasing natural resources by a well-planned programme of national development," it is declared. "A great work is waiting to be carried out, and sufficient capital is available if properly organized. The utilization of the unemployed on this work, instead of paying them to idle, would give an immediate stimulus to all industries of the country."

"The machinery of co-operative industry," says another resolution, "should be improved by establishment of a ministry of industry, with a representative committee." Other resolutions deal with the coal trade, agriculture education, housing, free trade, rating reforms, temperance and electoral reform. It is proposed to issue a manifesto to the nation on the basis of the resolutions adopted in view of the immense expense of a general election campaign.

VANCOUVER'S TRIALS

IT IS NOT OUR BUSINESS WHAT VANCOUVER DOES. We do not mind its occasional joke at our expense. But the report which Commissioner Lennie has just presented to the Police Commission of that city has been read with interest by many citizens of Victoria who know Vancouver almost as well as they do their own.

Mr. Lennie was appointed to inquire into certain charges which had been made against the Vancouver Police Force. The proceedings consumed a great deal of time, many eminent members of the legal profession were employed as counsel for the principal actors in what at times bordered on comedy and at others on drama, while the names of prominent people were freely mentioned in various connections. Some had to do with the alleged acceptance of money from persons known to be of shady character and others involved partiality in the enforcement of law and order. It is not our intention to offer an opinion as to whether the evidence presented at the inquiry justified the charges that were made on these counts. The public probably has reached its own conclusions. On the other hand, Mr. Lennie says that the rank and file of Vancouver's Police Force consists of "as fine a body of men as will be found anywhere" but he considers that the so-called "open-town" policy upon which Mayor Taylor was elected to his office is largely responsible for the demoralization of the organization.

It is this part of Commissioner Lennie's report which contains a significance that will be noted by other cities. At the present time Vancouver is suffering from a week-end orgy of safe-cracking and other forms of robbery. What success the police force is having in tracking down these nefarious characters is not very clear. It is a fact, however, that these unfortunates, either the same gang or gangs in relays, are doing their business with such regularity as to lend weight to the chief conclusion of the Commissioner. Patently this is the most serious problem to which the civic authorities must address themselves, for unless this condition shall be corrected without delay, Vancouver will be regarded as the happy-hunting-ground of the thugs of the continent.

THE PRESS AND THE LEAGUE

WHAT THE PRESS OF THE WORLD thinks of the League of Nations and what it thinks newspaper publicity can do for the cause of peace is best illustrated by the fact that no fewer than one hundred newspapers now keep a permanent correspondent at Geneva. Mankind has reason to be gratified that so many journals are constantly on the watch for any new developments involving international relationships, that there shall be no revival of the old secret diplomacy, and that they may have every facility for giving the world a fair and correct estimate of the activities of the League.

It is only natural that the number of additional correspondents at the annual gathering of the Assembly shall be determined by the importance of the subjects on the agenda. In this regard it is interesting to note how many newspapers and newsgathering agencies have been represented at the yearly convocation since 1920. Here are the figures:

	No. of Newspapers	No. of Agencies
1st Assembly, 1920	187	20
2nd Assembly, 1921	175	17
3rd Assembly, 1922	204	14
4th Assembly, 1923	150	16
5th Assembly, 1924	263	22
6th Assembly, 1925	258	24
7th Assembly, 1926	233	26
8th Assembly, 1927	289	30

It would not be surprising if the gathering next month attracted a larger number of newspapermen than ever. The presence there at the head of the Canadian delegation of Premier King will cause a good deal of interest and attract attention, not merely because it will be the first time a Canadian Prime Minister has attended, but because of Mr. King's thorough grasp of conditions peculiar to North America, not to mention his intimate knowledge of the Orient.

This year's session will be important also because it will convene so soon after the signing of the Kellogg anti-war pact. There is nothing in that undertaking, of course, which conflicts with the aims of the League of Nations; but it is reasonable to assume that its significance will promote comment. In this the newspapers of the world will be specially interested and many of the larger and wealthier ones will want full service.

"THINK IT OVER"

FORTUNATELY FOR BRITISH COLUMBIA this season has been a comparatively light one for forest fires. Conditions have been less hazardous than for some years. Welcome showers oc-

curated at the right time. In some parts of the Interior, however, it still is necessary to exercise the greatest care. Vegetation on Vancouver Island also is fairly dry yet. A few days of really hot weather, by no means unknown in early September, soon would counteract the moistening effect of recent heavy fogs. In this connection it is interesting to note what the United States Forest Service is doing to impress upon the minds of the people of that country the urgent necessity of taking every possible precaution to preserve standing timber. It has issued a pamphlet called "Think It Over." Here are some extracts from it:

There are more than 4,000 uses for wood—and new ones are being discovered every day. One billion pencils are used in the United States every year. Railroads use 100 million new wooden ties every year. Mining operations call for 260 million cubic feet of wood annually. It takes thirty-six acres of forest to produce one day's edition of a big city newspaper. Lumbering and pulp manufacture makes up the second largest industry in the United States in capital invested and labor employed. Six million people derive their living from industries using wood—one million men are employed in the lumber industry. We are cutting our remaining forests four times as fast as they are being renewed by new growth. There are 100 million acres of cutover and burned forest land in the United States which should be growing trees.

The pamphlet concludes with "What is the Answer?" The foregoing statements, applying in a general sense to the use of wood, may be taken to heart by the people of this province in particular and the Dominion in general. When we are careless in the timbered areas we may be the means of robbing many of our workers of their means of livelihood. Hundreds of thousands of feet of mature timber may be destroyed in a few hours. It takes nearly a century to replace them. We, too, should "Think It Over." We know the answer.

PROTECTION AND EMPLOYMENT

SOME OF OUR POLITICAL FRIENDS never tire of telling us that employment can be stabilized and increased by high tariffs. Advocates of protection elsewhere sing the same tune. But it does not seem to work out that way in practice. We often are referred to Australia, well known as one of the most highly protected countries in the world. Yet at the end of the last fiscal year the official rate of unemployment in the Commonwealth was 10.2. The significance of this figure will be better understood when compared with the rate of unemployment in Great Britain, where comparatively few industries are subject to the "safeguarding" legislation. At the same time it stood in Great Britain, with her 1,250,000 unemployed, at 9.6.

Our Conservative friends in this country continually harp on preserving the home market as a means of creating more employment. What would we do with a 500,000,000-bushel wheat crop if we could not export to other countries which we do not require for our own use? About one-third of it is all we need for all purposes. We sell the balance to the rest of the world. But we cannot do all the selling. We must buy as well, and it is the comparatively free flow of trade and commerce between nations which keeps the world's economic structure intact. We may have some industries in Canada which would make higher profits and provide a little more employment in them if the tariff against goods in competition with their products were to be increased. In the case of a commodity in universal demand, however, it simply would mean that the common people would be saddled with the cost of that higher duty. It would take so much from the wage earner's pay check which otherwise would be spent in other ways, increasing the production of other goods, and consequently causing a demand for more labor. He can spend so much—his salary is not advanced when the tariff is put up—and then he must call a halt. Canada should learn her tariff lesson from the plight of the textile industry in the United States.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

MUSSOLINI TALKS PEACE

The Toronto Globe

Addressing the Italian Senate, Premier Mussolini emphasizes the cordial relations of Italy with the United States, her traditional friendship with Great Britain, her improved relations with France, her "diplomatically correct" understanding with Austria, wanting somewhat in warmth, her friendship with Germany. He even spoke with unexpected moderation of Jugoslavians affairs as affecting Italy.

The world will wish to believe that these pacific expressions denote a pacific intent. Yet it cannot overlook the bullying attitude taken by Mussolini toward all these nations but one within recent months. In February, 1927, he was saying that naval limitations such as were about to be discussed at Geneva were not for Italy. In April he was encouraging home-rule agitation in Corsica. In May he was saying that Italy must be able to mobilize 5,000,000 men, with an air force whose "roaring motors should drown all other sounds." In August he was giving notice that a union of Austria with Germany would not do. In October he was bidding his black-shirts "up with their muskets" for "new great labors." In December he was so seriously at outs with France over alliances in Jugoslavia and Albania that the prophets foresaw war, a danger only averted in the last days of the year. As recently as February he was instructing Italian-born men in the United States that Italy still listed them as subjects to be called upon if needed.

If Mussolini used inflammatory appeals to the spirit of Roman imperialism mainly for political effect at home he was not the first to play that dangerous game, nor will he have been the last. The true friends of Italy in other lands will sincerely hope that his latest significant political utterance accurately charts his future course.

A THOUGHT

It is appointed unto men once to die.—Hebrews ix, 27. If I must die I will encounter darkness as a bride, and hug it in mine arms.—Shakespeare.

BRIDGE MADE EASY by W.W. Wentworth

(Abbreviations: A—ace; K—king; Q—queen; J—jack; X—any card lower than 10.)

Here are additional illustrations of the disadvantage of the singleton lead when one holds length or strength in trumps. In each instance south's declaration is hearts and west, who must lead, holds:

1—Spades, A K X X; hearts, X X X X; diamonds, X; clubs, X X X X.
West should open with the spade King if partner plays in a manner which encourages leading spades, west should continue that suit. Otherwise, west should lead the singleton on the next round.

2—Spades, X X X X; hearts, Q X X; diamonds, X; clubs, Q J 10 X X.
West should not lead the singleton. When holding trumps as good as Q X X, the singleton lead is inadvisable. West should lead the club Queen. Dummy may cover with the club King and partner may take the club Ace. Returning the club suit, partner may enable you to take the next trick with the club Jack. West should play the club 10 on the third round and if partner takes the trick and returning the spade suit, west would then lead the spade King. It is probable that the declarer will finesse in an attempt to capture the heart King and it will win a trick even though the protecting card is missing.

THE LOST MONOPLANE

To the Editor—Every good citizen of Victoria will at this time, express the deepest regret in connection with the recent disappearance of the great monoplane. Various rumors are abroad, some comforting to the relatives of the passengers and pilots, and some otherwise.

The critic, honest perhaps in his opinion, expressed his views as to the wisdom of using a land plane for the Victoria-Seattle route, as one who has traveled in this plane I can honestly say I never, in my long experience in all forms of travel, experienced anything to equal the manner in which the plane was operated. The management was courteous to a degree, the pilots were skilful in the operation of the machine, and there was no hint of recklessness or any evidence of carelessness. I traveled with Mr. Walker in control, and his manner at once inspired confidence.

Such a service financially backed by public-spirited citizens deserves every encouragement at this time, and I heartily endorse the management in the same type of machine, and if the company requires additional capital or moral support I will help all in my power, as I am sure will every good citizen of this city.

To conclude, if the plane is lost with its passengers and pilots, we have this consolation—that the machine, which other spheres than ours, they will know what it means to be sustained by His Everlasting Arms where the frailties abide secure.

BRITISH HARVESTERS
To the Editor—When in Canada last year I was delighted to find how enthusiastic your women's organizations were to receive those from the Old Country. I enjoyed that wonderful hospitality, and count myself among my best friends many women (say, and men too), in Canada.

May I through your columns appeal to the women to endeavor to get into touch with our "unemployed" men who have gone over to help with the harvest, for sometimes it only requires a friendly visit to make the "unemployed" Canadian loves the Motherland.

Many of these men have come from the homes of members of the Women's Guild of the mining districts, and know that there are many friends of the guild in Canada who I feel sure, on reading this letter, will do all they can to get into touch with the British harvesters, and may help him to decide to settle in another part of our great Empire.

THE GOLDEN RULE
To the Editor—Would you kindly allow me space in your paper to correct a statement which has been made with regard to my exhibit in the art department of the Willows Fair.

One of the attendants has thought fit to state to visitors to the exhibition that my painted study of a dancer is a copy of another artist's work.

I take this opportunity of stating that the sketch in question was mine in the presence of others, and the artist is a teacher of dancing at an Up-Island point.

It is extremely regrettable that an exhibitor has to take this means of clearing himself. Small-minded actions such as that of the person in question, are not conducive to increasing membership in any society.

THE PEACE PACT
To the Editor—Having read your article on the Peace Pact which has received the signature of the Nations' representatives who have not purposely been barred from this function, permit me to quote your statement in the editorial of August 25, which reads as follows:

"It seems to be difficult for some newspapermen and publicists to find words of welcome for this latest desire to try any experiment to prevent war. They are told that the Kellogg Pact does little or nothing to strengthen the forces of peace. This is another way of accusing the representatives, all men of influence and integrity, of going to Paris to take part in some sort of farce. No intelligent person with a sense of responsibility would make such a charge. It comes only from those elements in this and other countries that seek at all peace efforts made because they are unable to rid themselves of their Bourbon outlook."

There is an utterance one often hears in daily intercourse which says "there is no one so blind as those who will not see." Closing your eyes to historical facts does not help you, Mr. Editor, for men of influence and integrity have participated and penned their signatures to solemn obligations and pacts at the Hague Convention, Versailles and also at Washington, which pacts have since been treated as mere scraps of paper. These men of influence and integrity, acting on behalf of their respective governments, have seen their solemn obligations violated by those who instructed them to sign.

I make special reference to Sec. 171 of the Versailles Peace Treaty, which stipulates that the use of asphyxiating, poisonous and other gases, and all analogous liquids, materials and devices, is prohibited as well as of materials intended for the manufacture, storage and use of the same. Article 163 of the Washington Treaty reads "the use in war of asphyxiating, poisonous or other gases and all analogous liquids, materials and devices, has been justly condemned by the general opinion of the civilized world and a prohibition of such having been in the treaties to which a majority of the civilized powers are parties, the signatory powers to the end that this prohibition shall be universally accepted as a part of international law, binding alike the conscience and practice of nations, declare their assent to such prohibition, agree to be bound thereby as between themselves, and to invite all other nations to adhere thereto."

This Washington Treaty had a "nigger in the woodpile." The signatory powers were to ratify this agreement and certified copies were to be deposited in Washington. Only upon

WILLIAMS FAIR AND EXHIBITION
To the Editor—The 1928 Exhibition to the public and the press have been generous in their praise as shown by the editorial articles in both local papers. The support and interest of the general public as registered by 34,516 paid admissions to the fair.

The President, Mr. W. H. Munroe, and that practical hard-working secretary, Mr. H. H. Munroe, who have both last year and this year, gave of their time and experience, help and loyal co-operation towards the object that has been achieved.

Mr. Editor, in your kind remarks you refer to expansion both in the general scope of the exhibition and its buildings and grounds. I heartily agree with you, but this will incur a large item of expense on capital account.

In the Spring of 1929, some aldermen will have to face the music on behalf of the exhibition before the estimates committee of the City Council; further, it is apparent that the council of 1929 will be confronted with increased expenditure on behalf of the School Board for a new technical school and possibly a new graded school; the water committee must have funds to deal sanely with our water supply problem and our valuable timber reserve.

Also our engineering department will have its calls upon the public purse and rightly so, for Victoria is growing. One thing is also sure: Some members of the 1929 council will demand a reduction of the mill rate. Now, Mr. Editor, I am wondering where you will stand at that precise time, for my memory does not recall that I received any great support from either the press or the public when I advocated the 1928 grant for exhibition purposes this year.

My point is this: Help and support, at the right moment, is vital if we as citizens really want to make our exhibition fair of 1929 and in the future years "Bigger and Better," and do not forget that the City Council and the Provincial Department of Major-General Sir Charles Parsons, K.C.M.G., commanding the regular forces in Canada, will arrive here September 11 to make his annual inspection of the fortress and garrison.

Under the charge of Geo. Jeeves, the new Carey Castle is fast assuming a finished appearance. Already His Honor, Sir Henry Joly de La Riviere, and Lady Joly, have taken up their residence in the Government House. Much, however, remains to be done before the home of the Lieut.-Governor is completed.

This morning a deputation representing residents of Esquimalt school district, waited upon the Minister of Education and presented the views of a large section of the community with respect to the school difficulties. Over 100 left this morning on the excursion trip to Vancouver on the new steamer Princess Victoria.

Under new management, the sawmill at Sidney was set in operation on Thursday last.

A large gathering of sorrowing friends, representative of not only every section of this city, but of many outside points, paid their final tribute to the memory of a good man yesterday, when all that was earthly of the late Rev. Alex. Fraser was interred in its last resting place.

The assembly room of the Victoria High School was crowded yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the commencement exercises. The principal, E. B. Paul, M.A., occupied the chair in the absence of Superintendent Eaton, who was expected to officiate, and among those on the platform were: Chairman Wilson and Trustees Boggs and Suggett, Rev. W. J. Stiprell, B.A., Inspector Drury and G. E. Redfern.

MARA'S SUPPORT OF LOWER INSURANCE RATES UNCHANGED
Alderman Mara this morning stated that his support of the claims of Victoria to lower fire insurance rates had not wavered, despite the aging of the city's motorized firefighting equipment.

"Decisions arrived by me at the city's lack of new fire apparatus should not be regarded as opposition to lower rates."

"At the last session of the City Council I commented upon the city's neglect of the fire department's need of new apparatus, but those remarks did not imply abandonment of my well-known advocacy of lower rates," said the Alderman.

IMPOSSIBLE TO HELP THOSE WHO THINK THEY DON'T NEED HELP

Mrs. E. D. G. writes:
"I have a friend whose son is two years old. So far she has not tried to train him to the stool. For a long time he has been troubled with constipation, and she tells me that she gives him medicine every night and still he has no movement. Sometimes it takes two suppositories before the bowels will move. During the day when he needs to go to the toilet he sits on the floor, strains and grunts and tears come to his eyes. She pays little attention to this and just gives him more medicine. We all feel sorry for the poor child, but are afraid to say anything to her for fear of hurting his feelings.
"Practically all day he eats cake and doughnuts and drinks milk. She says, when asked, that he doesn't care for vegetables and fruits. How on earth can he have regular movements? And how can we make her understand that a growing child needs more than doughnuts and cake and milk? I have mentioned your articles to her, but to no avail. They have helped me very much.
"My daughter is four and one-half months and weighs thirteen and one-half pounds. She weighed seven pounds two ounces at birth. Recently she has been trying to sit up. Should I encourage this? She has regular feeding hours and sleeps quite a bit. She is a very good baby and kicks and plays with her hands, and loves to make a noise.

"About a week ago I started one teaspoon of cereal, just before her ten o'clock feeding. Is this too much? I also give her prune and orange juice. Should I add anything else to her diet? Thanks very much for your leaflets, they have helped me wonderfully."
ANSWER
I don't know any answer to the problem of your friend who is evidently quite satisfied with what she is doing. All the old proverbs about taking a horse to water and not being able to make him drink, and none so blind as those who will not see, apply beautifully to her case. She might be immensely surprised to find how different her diet is from the correct one, and I am mailing you two leaflets, one of which you can pass on. She probably will throw it in the waste basket. I'm afraid there is little use in bustling advice at those who don't want it.
The teaspoon of cereal is just right for a starter. An increase in the amount of cereal can occupy the next two months and you can start, in the same cautious amount, sliced spinach or carrots, or small amounts of vegetables. There are no more changes until nine months when weaning is begun, except the gradual increase in the amounts of these various foods.
The baby's weight is good. Let her sit on your lap for short periods but don't prop her up in a chair.

VANCOUVER BALL HONORS PRINCE

Naval Officers' Hosts; Prince George Dances With Mrs. Jermain

Vancouver, Aug. 28.—Majors of beautiful Summer blossoms, greenery and tall palms used with the white ensign and other naval regalia, formed the chief decorative scheme in the crystal ballroom and peacock alley of the Hotel Vancouver last evening when the Vancouver Naval Officers' Association entertained at a ball in honor of Prince George, youngest son of King George and Queen Mary. Other special guests of honor were Vice-Admiral Sir Cyril T. M. Fuller, K.C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., commander-in-chief of the West Indies Station squadron of the British navy, and officers of the British light cruiser Despatch, and Durban and the Canadian destroyer Vancouver.
As Britain's naval Prince made almost a direct journey to Vancouver this is the only city in which a ball has been given on this trip in his honor and the function created keen interest in social circles. Beautiful Summer gowns worn by debutantes and matrons, in contrast to the navy blue uniforms of the officers, created an animated and brilliant scene, while crowds of spectators thronged the rotundas to catch a glimpse of the Prince.
His Royal Highness arrived at the ball following the civic dinner given in his honor.
Prince George danced first with Mrs. R. L. Jermain, wife of Captain Jermain, and later in the evening escorted her to the supper room.

Gee and Mrs. Alfred Carmichael were appointed a committee to receive nominations for officers and executive before the annual meeting.

LONDON'S POOR CHILDREN WELL CARED FOR NOW

Miss Ishbel MacDonald Describes Health Measures in L.C.C. Schools

Over 600 Members of Women's Canadian Club Hear Interesting Talk

"Before the war there were many children really ragged and barefooted in the streets of London. Now there is such a tremendous improvement in their health and appearance that if wealthy people are desirous of giving a Christmas party for the poor, they are disappointed of the pleasure of patronizing little ragged children, the little ones who attend look so healthy and are decently clothed," said Miss Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of the former Labor Premier of Great Britain before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon.

Miss MacDonald was telling her audience, numbering over 600, something of the strides made in social service work in London, particularly in the schools, and its beneficial effect upon the children. The improvement in the appearance of the children of poor districts since the war she attributed largely to the fact that while the breadwinner of the family was fighting overseas the mother received a separation allowance. This regular income permitted a mother to feed and clothe her children much better than on the uncertain and irregular income received by the casual worker before the war.

LABOR MOVEMENT HELPS POOR

The tremendous growth of the Labor movement and the trades union movement had increased the self-respect of the working classes, and the poor now felt that they were not so much "the under dog," said Miss MacDonald. Though the Labor movement was not a class movement, the poor felt it was because it worked for the emancipation and had done much to improve their conditions.

In many boroughs in London the Board of Guardians, which look after relief problems, had lately been elected from the ranks of the working classes. These guardians, being from the working class, understood the needs of the poor and what it meant to be poor and were humane and understanding in their duties, thus helping those who came within their jurisdiction to keep up their self-respect, the speaker claimed. "Many factors have gone into the alteration of the appearance of the children attending schools in the poor districts," continued Miss MacDonald.

SCHOOL MEDICAL INSPECTION
One of the most potent factors was the school medical inspection, inaugurated by the London County Council, of which she is a member, twenty years ago.

Under this system the children were examined when they entered school, which in some districts was at the age of three years. In others it was again at intervals all through their school life. The medical inspectors were nearly all women doctors, and the follow-up work was carried on by the Voluntary Care Committee, of which the speaker is also a member. Miss MacDonald described the London County Council treatment centers where children, on the recommendation of the school medical inspectors, could have tonsils removed for the small fee of fifty cents, dental work done for the same low fee, and other treatments at correspondingly low figures.

FOLLOW-UP WORK

At first the system had been looked upon with distrust by the parents who regarded the clinics as experimental stations, but now the prejudice was dying down and the children benefited accordingly. The Voluntary Care Committee followed up the work of the medical inspectors and saw that the children received the necessary treatment. In the event of the parents refusing to allow a child to receive treatment, in cases of serious physical defect or infirmity, the committee could bring the case to the attention of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, a drastic step.

Miss MacDonald told of the distribution of milk in the schools to undernourished children, paid for by the L.C.C., where the parent could not afford it. She also described the three or four open-air residential schools where delicate children could be sent for a period for observation and care.

HOUSING CONDITIONS BAD

"But in many London districts the housing is so bad that the school medical service is really receiving damaged goods to patch up," said Miss MacDonald. She, in common with other members of the Labor Party, believed that it would be a wise economy to spend more money on housing, thus giving the children a better start from birth. The Labor Party in the London County Council, though in the minority, hoped some day to see nursery schools and real open-air nurseries in the crowded areas, to spend more money on preventive work and less on the school medical service.
In telling of the work of the London County Council among school children, Miss MacDonald observed: "I don't want you to think I am telling you of this work because we are pretending to do these things better than you do in Canada, because I know what splendid work you are doing here. But it is refreshing to meet such a big body of women who are interested in what the Old Country is doing."

EDUCATION ALL-EMBRACING

"You in Canada realize, as we do in the Old Country, that education is not merely a matter of books and lessons. To be effective it must include care of the body and of the soul, as well as of the mind. If we can bring up healthy citizens we can build up a great nation. The foundation of any nation is good home life, healthy common-sense parents with a proper

WOMEN INVADE KELLOGG PACT LUNCH PARTY

Upholders of Equal Rights Cause Scene at French President's Home

Rambouillet, France, Aug. 28.—Doris Stevens, American feminist leader, at the head of a group of eight women, put unexpected color into a luncheon given by President Doumergue to Secretary of State Kellogg and other signers of the Kellogg-Briand pact yesterday, by trying to make her way into the presence of the President, in behalf of the equal rights cause.
Miss Stevens herself and three of her colleagues lunched on sandwiches, beer and mineral water at the police station, having been conducted there with some vigor by officers attached to the Presidency, because two of them, Miss Stevens and Mrs. Loring Pickering, had left their identity cards at home. Betty Gram Swino, of Portland, Oregon, and the wife of an English correspondent, an ardent sympathizer, was taken along because she refused to move on when ordered. The fourth woman to throw in her lot with the Americans was Fanny Bunand, a French agitator for women's rights.
The women were released after President Doumergue's guests had gone. They went back to Paris. Secretary Kellogg and Ambassador Herrick, as well as others of the President's guests, were unaware of the incident.

UNFURL BANNER

A group composed of Miss Stevens, Mrs. Pickering, Mrs. Swino, Miss Bunand, Marie Gochi of Italy, Miss Plock and Madame Van Herten of Germany, with Madames Auscher and Neiter of France, arrived before the gates of the Presidential chateau just as Secretary Kellogg's car drove up. They unfurled a banner on which was inscribed: "We demand an equal rights treaty."

One end of the banner was guarded by a woman holding an American flag and another woman with the French colors was on the other extremity. A police officer on duty at the Rambouillet Chateau made a running jump and grabbed the banner, handing it to a gendarme and ordering the group of women to disperse. The women stood their ground and the officer confiscated the flag, repeating his order that they move on. The answer this time was a forward movement toward the chateau gates. Another plain clothes man came up, put his broad chest in the way, and the advance was checked. Thereupon the officer demanded the occasion for what he called "this most untimely and ill-advised manifestation."

UNCREMONIANT CALL BARRER

Miss Stevens replied that the committees on international action of the National Women's Party of the United States, of which she is chairman, was bent on seeing President Doumergue and presenting to him a proposed treaty to establish the legal equality of men and women throughout the world.

"Who are you and where do you come from?" the officer asked.
"From America, from England, from Germany, from Italy and even from France," was the reply.

"Well," retorted the officer, "let those not French understand that one does not call on the President of the republic in this manner. Let them take their banners and unfurl them at home if they want to, but they cannot be tolerated here."

The result of this was another vigorous push toward the gate, thereupon the women were asked for their identification papers. Miss Stevens and Mrs. Pickering had left theirs at home. "Take them to the police station," was the order.

Miss Stevens and her colleagues communicated their plight to friendly spirits outside through a window. Refreshments were smuggled in and by the same means the feminists made known their side of the case. They complained that the officers man-handled them and showed black and blue marks on their wrists and arms to prove excessive energy of the part of the gendarmes and detectives.

WOMEN'S VERSION.

The women's side of the case, as presented by Miss Stevens, was as follows: "We tried to take this opportunity to present to the plenipotentiaries here assembled an equal rights treaty for signature. We want to raise the status of women throughout the world by means of an international agreement. Men act in concert, so must women. Treaties which abolish subjection in any form to the most precious to humanity and the most enduring. The whole world rejoiced when the anti-slavery treaty was signed, and the human rights of a race were established. The whole world rejoices to-day because a treaty outlawing war has been signed. Again this treaty raises the dignity and status of human beings. The equal rights treaty, which we propose, takes its place beside those two great treaties. It is even greater. "Under its terms one-half of the human race is affected and the dignity of the whole sex will be raised through usefulness and greater beauty. This treaty is an affirmation of life in protest against death."

Fellowship Club—The Fellowship Club held its monthly tea and entertainment for the patients of the two wards of aged and infirm in the Jubilee Hospital yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance of members, including Mrs. E. Hibbert, a new member. An attractive programme included songs by Mrs. William Panthorpe, Mrs. E. Panthorpe and Mrs. J. Witby, with Mrs. L. Bowdard at the piano. At the conclusion the patients joined in community singing and tea was served.

Passed High in Exams—In the recent piano examinations held by McGill University, Miss Della Rollins, pupil of Dr. J. E. Watson, took first place in Canada in the intermediate grade.

"LIBERTY" LAUDS PICTURE "DAWN"

Liberty, a United States periodical, lauds "Dawn" in no uncertain manner. "It is, of course, a grim chronicle."

But there is a strange suspense in a figure of a doomed tragedy, a kind of hypnotism in fate marching on to a foregone goal.

Much of this comes from the performance of Sybil Thorndike, who is superb. She makes Nurse Cavell brave and grim, determined and dignified, playing with fine simplicity and restraint. There is an utter lack of conventional screen sentimentality. And her final moments—in her cell and on her march to face the firing squad—touched with human weakness, bravery and dread, are tremendously compelling. "Dawn" is now in its final week at the Coliseum.

VIRGINIA VALLI PLAYING LEADING ROLE AT PLAYHOUSE

Virginia Valli, who plays opposite Lawrence Gray in "Ladies Must Dress," at the Playhouse Theatre to-day, is never late for her morning calls and the reason, according to her own confession, is quite simple. Miss Valli resides at the crest of a high foothill overlooking the East and she has not missed a sunrise in two years except when absent from her California home.

She goes to sleep thinking of the sun and invariably awakens fifteen or twenty minutes before the glowing orb appears over the rim of San Geronimo in the San Bernardino Range.

BEN LYON HAS LEADING ROLE IN VARIETY PICTURE

Mabel Swor, pretty blonde member of the Robert Kane Stock Company, makes her second screen appearance in "For the Love of Mike," showing this week at the Variety Theatre.

She plays the role of the society girl, who tries to win Ben Lyon away from his East Side sweetheart, enacted by Claudette Colbert. Ford Sterling, George Sidney and Hugh Cameron are in the cast which Frank Capra directed.

HOBART BOSWORTH
COLUMBIA HERE

Linda Lored, the Malay dancing girl of "After the Storm," the Columbia sea drama starring Hobart Bosworth, which is on the screen at the Columbia Theatre to-day, is a member of a musical family. Her father is an orchestra leader and composer of Spanish ballads. One brother is a dancing instructor in Los Angeles and another is an accomplished pianist.

Linda commenced her dancing career almost as soon as she could walk. At the age of thirteen she left the classroom to do a singing and dancing act, with her sister, in vaudeville.

Miss Lored's first came to the screen in "Riding With Death," a Fox production. She has appeared in "The Thief of Bagdad," "Heroes of the Wild," and "Prince Paul."

JOHN BARRYMORE PLAYS LEAD IN DOMINION FILM

Alan Crosland, who directed "Glorious Betsy," a romance of the Napoleonic era starring Dolores Costello, which plays at the Dominion Theatre all this week, has directed three pictures that have a total of twenty months in New York, establishing his versatility as a director of the type of entertainment the public enjoys.

Crosland's pictures that had record runs throughout the country include "Don Juan," starring John Barrymore, which played to packed houses for eleven months; "When a Man Loves," starring John Barrymore and Dolores Costello, which ran for six months and was followed by "Old San Francisco," starring Miss Costello, which closed after five months to make way for "The Jazz Singer," starring Al Jolson. Indications are that "The Jazz Singer" will enjoy a year's run at least.

Now comes "Glorious Betsy," which Crosland believes is the best picture he has done.

CAPITOL IN "HOT
NEWS" THIS WEEK

"The reason I am single is that I have never found a man whom I could marry on a fifty-fifty basis."

This was the declaration of Bebe Daniels, movie comedienne, in an interview during the filming of her latest picture, "Hot News," now at the Capitol Theatre.

"It is not bragging for me to say that I have been a successful woman," the Paramount star said. "With this success has come a certain income and an accumulation of money and property. The man I marry will have to be as successful in his work as I am in mine; he must have as great an income and as much savings. We must be a fifty-fifty basis as far as money goes."

Miss Daniels has never been married. The stage attractions at the Capitol this week include several good acts, amongst which are Snyder and Mahan, two men who sing and play in a style their own, Evelyn Rose, the champion heel and toe dancer, and the Laverne Sisters, in a novelty act of singing and dancing. The outstanding thing on the programme for this week is the presentation of the new $5,000 auditorium model Electrola Victrola.

Regular Dogfight For Place On Heels Of The Leading St. Louis Cards

Only Half a Game Separates New York in Second Place From Pittsburgh on Fifth Rung; St. Louis Cardinals Increase Lead to Five and One-half Games When Giants Are Twice Beaten by Hornsby's Braves; Athletics Pull Up On Yankees Once Again

It's a dogfight for runner-up position in the National League, and the devil take the hindmost.

A small blanket would suffice to cover the New York Giants, Chicago Cubs, Cincinnati Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates, who are battling fiercely to catch the St. Louis Cardinals.

Six percentage points, or a half-game, divide the Giants, present holders of second place, from the Reds and the Pirates, who are tied for fourth place. The Cubs, according to the figures, are all even with the Giants, having won four more games and lost four more than the Giants, but they rank no higher than third in percentage.

The standing of the leaders to-day:

St. Louis	W.	L.	Pct.
St. Louis	76	48	.613
New York	68	51	.571
Chicago	72	50	.590
Cincinnati	70	54	.563
Pittsburgh	70	54	.563

CARDS OUT OF SLUMP

The Cards, apparently all through with the slump that cost them first place for a few days not long ago, increased their lead to five and one-half games by beating the Cubs for the second straight day.

The Pirates further jumbled up the standing by taking both ends of a double-header with the Phillies, helping the Phillies and thus moved up to tie the tie Reds.

Behind some fine pitching by Clarence Mitchell, the Cardinals had no trouble winning 6-0 from the Cubs.

HORNSBY DID IT

Roger Hornsby seemed to take great delight in the Braves' double defeat of the Giants, 3-2 and 7-5. He got six hits, three of them doubles, drove in two runs and scored four himself. Mr. Hornsby must have felt sick when he saw what his former workmen did. Larry Benton and Joe Genewick, both former stars of the Braves, were the pitching winners. It was Benton's fifth win of a season that already has seen him win twenty-one games.

The Pirates crushed the Phillies 3 to 2 and 18 to 7. Carson Hill led off only four hits in the first game, while Joe Lawson received credit for the second when Burleigh Grimes was knocked out of the box in the second inning.

Over in the American League the Athletics regained the ground they lost on Monday by taking a double-header from Chicago. White Sox. Lefty Grove hung up his twelfth straight victory in the opener, 1-0. Miller's single in the eleventh scored Haas with the run that gave the "A's" the win.

The double victory placed Philadelphia again three games behind the Yankees, who were idle.

A six-run rally in the third gave Detroit an 8 to 4 victory over Cleveland in the opening game of the series. The St. Louis Browns rallied for two runs in the eleventh to turn back Boston Red Sox 3 to 5.

U.S. LANDS HIM

Athletic fame is not the business asset in Ireland that it is in the United States, so Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan, winner of the Olympic hammer throwing championship, is coming to America to hang out his shingle and make his fortune.

The doctor was taught how to hurl the iron pill by Paddy Ryan, former world's champion, who has been living in Ireland for several years, and it was the former New York gas inspector who advised his protégé to cross the Atlantic.

Puts on Fifth Century in Six Innings For Fleet Against B.C. Eleven

Vancouver, Aug. 29.—A cricket eleven representing the Royal Navy and consisting of players from the British Columbia, the Canadian and the Canadian destroyer Vancouver, now in port, administered a defeat to the all-British Columbia eleven, which recently won the Western Canada championship in Winnipeg, at Brockton Point yesterday afternoon. The Navy scored 215 runs to 143 for British Columbia.

Agnew, going in first, batted right through the visitors' innings and provided the feature individual display of the day. The crack naval batsman, who has scored five centuries in his last six innings, hit the ball clean out of the grounds for six half a dozen times and registered four boundary hits.

GREAT FIELDING
In the British Columbia innings the wonderful vim displayed by the naval team in the field pleased the crowd immensely. Of the ten British Columbia wickets to fall no less than nine fell as the result of the visitors' brilliant work in the field.

Have Made Millions For Owners But May Get Dismissed From Their Jobs

With the exercise of a genius that made him more of a miracle man than any other character in sport, the universally respected and exceedingly popular Uncle Wilbert Robinson put Brooklyn on the baseball map and made millionaires of the club owners.

His reward is an announcement from Steve McKeever, half-owner of the club, that he will be fired when his contract expires in 1930, and that he will be given the air sooner if some way can be found to give it to him.

Tex Rickard took an unrespectable sport out of the back rooms and the lively stable arenas and manufactured enough decency to make it the respected resident of the finest palace of its kind in the world. He took with him and his washed-up toy a group of Wall Street bankers who profited greatly, not only by the tremendous dividends on their investments, but by the publicity which association with Rickard attracted to their business.

LOOK OUT, TEX!
Rickard's reward is a threat of removal from the management of the corporation, a threat that has been by no means disguised. Rickard made a million for himself and he must have made plenty for his associates. But he, too, is in danger of the gate that is the penalty of those business men who are not hard-boiled idolaters of the dollar.

John McGraw made the New York Giants the greatest institution in baseball. He made millionaires of the men who invested their money in the club and he, too, enabled them to cash in on the publicity that his ball club attracted to the other business ventures of the stockholders.

McGraw likewise has been successful to the point where the "board" feels that his business and his machine can carry on without him. Earlier in the season McGraw was actually in danger of his job. If he wins the pennant this year his removal from the job will be deferred.

SALESMEN NOT BIG
The New York Giants, the Madison Square Garden and the Brooklyn Robins are million-dollar concerns. In almost any line of commerce or industry the brains of a million dollar concern would command very large money. But McGraw, Rickard and Robinson are not in that very large money.

Rickard gets $30,000 a year from his board. McGraw and Robinson $25,000 from theirs. Rickard and McGraw are stockholders in their corporations, but Robinson is just a hired man.

The Brooklyn club was almost bankrupt when Robby took charge of it. With two of the worst teams that ever played in a world's series he won two championships and he has consistently kidded terrible ball clubs up into the money. He got so much out of cheap ball players that the late Charlie Ebbets died a millionaire and Steve McKeever, who has turned against him, has so much money that he says he will give Robby $25,000 out of his own pocket to quit.

Rickard's board got sore on him because he turned over only $400,000 in profits after the second Dempsey-Tunney fight. The board was enraged when the Mandell-McLarnin fight broke even and when the Tunney-Hoover fight lost $155,000.

MAKES PLENTY OF MONEY
In spite of the fact that Rickard can assure his corporation of profits on the year of $600,000 the board is after him. They threaten a general reorganization at the next annual meeting and Rickard's yacht is at the foot of Forty-Second Street under steam.

What the Stoneyham interests have against McGraw is not public property, but there is enough evidence to indicate that the controlling interests would prefer to have him elsewhere.

Tunney Squares Off With Literary Champs

Round of Intellectual Meetings Inaugurated With Luncheon With Hugh Walpole, Novelist; Long-heralded Mix With Bernard Shaw Set for Middle of September; Retired Champion May Play Golf and Lunch With Prince of Wales; Gets a Quiet Period

London, Aug. 29.—Gene Tunney began a series of bouts with the heavyweights of literature today, inaugurating a new round of intellectual meetings by luncheon with Hugh Walpole, the novelist, at his London home.

The long-heralded meeting with Bernard Shaw will take place in the middle of September, after the playwright has returned from his Italian vacation and Tunney is finished with his European trip.

This morning he discussed with Thornton Wilder, the novelist, their proposed walking tour on the continent which it has now been decided will be in the Tyrol.

PLAY GOLF MATCH
While no arrangements have yet been made for a golf match between Tunney and the Prince of Wales, members of the American group said that a match may be eventually brought about through Sherman Cotttingham, amateur golfer, who has a private links at Maidenhead and plays frequently with the Prince. Should a meeting of the links be arranged, it is figured that the Prince is likely to win, considering their comparative scores. Tunney usually makes the round in the low 90's or upper 80's, while the Prince averages a few strokes less.

Tunney has at last found privacy—he has been hunting. Except for a few score cards, literary lights, sports experts and autograph seekers, the retired champion had yesterday to himself. After breakfast with Mr. Wilder, he went shopping. He spent most of the afternoon at an old Bond Street art gallery, where an exhibition of paintings by Miss Friend Zarth Pritchard, undersea artist, is on view.

Hugh Walpole and several other British writers awaiting him for tea.

OFF FOR PARIS
The former champion has decided to go to Paris Monday to get through with the welcoming ceremonies there as quickly as possible in the hope that they will be the last in Europe.

To-night Tunney will be the guest of Harry Preston, British sports promoter, who is a close friend of the Prince of Wales. The Prince, however, is not likely to attend the function because he is in Scotland and Tunney said last night that he knew nothing about any arrangements being made for him to meet the heir to the British throne.

A boxing dinner is a preliminary to a pressing match between "Newspaper Brown" and Johnny Hill, but Tunney said emphatically yesterday that he did not intend to attend the bout.

S.O.S. FOR A SECRETARY
His greatest mistake when coming to Europe was not bringing his secretary, Gene said. His room is cluttered with piles of telegrams, bunches of flowers and many books which publishers have poured in upon him since his arrival. Arrangements are being made for a temporary secretary to take care of his affairs.

GARCIA KNOCKED OUT
Newark, N.J., Aug. 29.—Tony Canzone, featherweight champion of the world, knocked out Bobby Garcia of Baltimore in 1 minute 7 seconds of the first round of a ten-round bout here last night.

Aston Villa To Let Moss, Capt., Go; A Surprise

London, Aug. 29 (Canadian Press Cable).—English soccer football circles, which have been in a turmoil all summer on account of inquiries by the league and suspensions of officials for one irregularity or another, got another shock to-day when the directors of the Aston Villa Club, following a special meeting, announced that they had decided to place Frank Moss, veteran captain of the team, on the transfer list.

This action follows a scene made in the game between Aston Villa and Manchester United when Moss is charged with having kicked McManahan of the latter team, who suffered a broken leg. Moss was put out of the game by the referee.

ONLY ONE TEAM IN SEEDED NET GROUP BEATEN

Frenchmen Suffer Elimination But Other Seven Doubles Win Matches

Appearance of English and Australians in U.S. Tourney Livens Play

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 29.—All but one of the eight seeded pairs entered in the forty-seventh annual National tennis doubles championships survived the second round play yesterday on the courts at the Longwood Cricket Club.

Jean Borotra and Rene de Buselet of France, seeded fourth in the foreign group, bowed to the Australians, R. D. Cummings and E. F. Moon. The scores were 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

The French pair's downfall, the first upset of the tournament, was not totally unexpected. They were forced to play three hours of rugged tennis on Monday, when Edward Higgs and L. C. Collins of England, refused to be conquered until they had held on for five sets.

Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, the French Davis Cup players, who are top-seeded in the foreign group, came through three hard sets with H. W. Austin and J. C. Gregory of England. The French stars, winners of the Wimbledon title recently, won the first two sets, 6-4, 7-5, and then lost five straight games to the Brits. With the match set standing 1-5, the Frenchmen suddenly took the aggressive, and won the next six games.

THE OTHER SEEDS
The other seeded homebreds, W. W. Ingram and J. W. Johnston, continued in the tournament by defeating Karl Kamman and Charles Barnes, holders of the Missouri Valley doubles crown. They had an easy time eliminating Wm. Adyolte and F. G. Rockwell, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

R. N. Williams II and Watson Washburn, ranking just below Van Ryn and Allison on the seeded list, disposed of Fred and Don Dixon, the inter-mountain doubles champions, 6-1, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

Why Florida Hopes It Isn't Going to Rain—or Blow—Any More

As an aftermath to the Florida hurricane, torrential rains flooded the damaged area. The half-submerged motor car in the upper picture is on the main highway out of Okeechobee City. Its former passengers have a long way to push it before they reach higher ground. Below is a flash-light picture taken while a forty-mile gale still blew. It shows an overturned truck on a bridge along the same highway. Both approaches to the bridge were washed out.

A graphic idea of the force of the Florida hurricane may be gained here. This giant live oak in the Okeechobee district is estimated to be well over a century old, but it was literally torn up by its roots, lifting with it a large section of earth. The man at the right of the tree is six feet tall. The falling oak struck the house a glancing blow and caused only a little damage. Fruit orchards in this vicinity were devastated.

If you didn't own a boat, the best means of travel about Okeechobee City, Fla., after the hurricane, was on horseback. The upper photo shows a line aquatic equestrian on the main highway and, at the left, some of the flooded buildings. A lucky circumstance of the storm is depicted below. These three homes at Kissimmee were crushed by falling live oaks, but nobody was injured, for the buildings happened to be unoccupied.

LURMAN BEST PAYER THREE TRACKS OFFER

FIELDING TO GO OUT AFTER LAKE

Sailor Rules Favorite But Local Boy Will Use Different Tactics This Time

The topic of much conversation at the clubs in the city at the present time is the Fielding-Lake contest, which is billed for Saturday night at the Tillicum Club. Both fighters have a big following and several wagers have been made on the outcome of the fight with Lake ruling an eight to six favorite.

The H.M.S. Durban boxer is without question the cleverest mitt-slinger that has appeared in a local ring. For six out of the ten rounds in the last fight he landed on the local fighter at will. The result of this bombardment, however, did not amount to a great deal.

Friends of Fielding figure that if Lake carries out the same tactics on Saturday night that he did in the previous fight, he will get a bad licking, as they figure that Fielding will start in at the first round swinging punches at a fast clip, and will soon slow up the clever sailor, and eventually throw him away with a knockout.

Tickets for the bouts are being snapped up.

SOFTBALL

The Hillcrest team was leading by a score of 12 to 7 in their second encounter with the Royals for the city softball championship at Central Park last night when the Rainbows brought the game to a close in the sixth inning.

Since the league officials do not recognize a game which has not gone seven innings, the teams have been ordered to replay the match to-night at 8 o'clock. If the Royals win in this evening's tilt, a third game will be played to decide which team will journey to Vancouver to meet the Arrow Transfer team for the provincial honors.

To-morrow evening the Navy and Marigold will clash in the semi-final of the Poodle Dog Cup series. The winners will meet the Saanich Thistles on Friday for the trophy. Bob Whyte will umpire the game.

Lee Meadows Not Wanted By Major Baseball Leagues

New York, Aug. 29.—Another face, long familiar to National League baseball fans, has passed out of the major league picture.

R. Lee Meadows, first base pitcher in this circuit this coming season, has been placed on the voluntarily retired list by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Meadows, in the major leagues for fourteen years, is another victim of that foe of diamond stars—sinus trouble.

Wiltse, Well-known Pitcher, Passes On

Syracuse, N.Y., Aug. 29.—Louis D. Wiltse, well-known professional baseball player, formerly a pitcher with the New York Yankees, is dead, the victim of an accident. He died to death after a knife slipped and severed an artery in his left leg.

O.C. CRICKET

NEWS IN BRIEF

Alfred Alexander and Wong, a Chinese, were each fined $25 in City Police Court this morning for being found in a disorderly house.

The Victoria Radio Club will meet at the clubhouse on Dallas Road this evening to make arrangements for the radio show to be held late in September. Anyone interested in this event is invited to attend.

The Central Creameries Limited exhibit of "Our Own Brand" of butter, which created such interest at the Willows Fair last week, was weighed yesterday afternoon and amounted to 767 pounds 4 ounces, it is announced by Manager Frank Partridge.

Leona Lee was fined $300 in City Police Court this morning being convicted on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. The case was adjourned from yesterday. Billie Black pleaded guilty to a charge of being found in a disorderly house and was fined $25.

Dignan Williams will be the special speaker at the symposium meeting at St. David's Hall, 1414 Douglas Street, this evening. This will be the first meeting of the society in its new quarters. An excellent programme has been arranged. Robert Thomas, president, will preside.

Construction of the new grain elevator at Ogden Point for the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited is nearing completion, according to reports from C. D. Howe and Company, filed yesterday with Alderman H. O. Litchfield, chairman of the industrial committee of the city council. The elevator is being roofed, and the electrical equipment is proceeding steadily, the reports state.

Dr. Arthur I. Brown, who is giving a series of addresses at the A.O.F. Hall, Cormorant Street, has been prevailed on to prolong his visit to Victoria. Besides being a Fellow of the College of Surgeons of Edinburgh, Dr. Brown is a scientist of repute. Dr. Brown is one of a world's tour, addressing universities, colleges and religious bodies. He will speak to-night on "Men, Monkeys and Missing Links," and on other subjects on Thursday and Sunday evenings. To-night's lecture should be interesting, as Dr. Brown proposes to answer questions that have been propounded to him by local evolutionists, modernists, agnostics and others.

FOGS DELAYING LOCAL SHIPPING

Coastwise Movements Held Up in Strait and in Gulf on Account of Dense Fog

Dense fog in the Straits and in the Gulf of Georgia is seriously hampering coastwise vessel movements, delaying the arrivals of steamers from Vancouver and Seattle and other points. Freighters coming in from the Strait of Juan de Fuca are being held up in the entrance to the Strait, necessitating a delay of several hours.

KATHLEEN DELAYED

On her trip from Seattle to Victoria yesterday morning the Princess Kathleen was delayed an hour in her arrival at Victoria, not being able to dock until 1:30 o'clock. She had to proceed through the Sound and the Strait of Juan de Fuca twice had to stop her engines entirely and drift for several minutes to ascertain her exact whereabouts. The delay, however, had little effect on her departure for Vancouver and she was only fifteen minutes late, sailing 8 o'clock instead of 1:45 o'clock. She arrived at 10 o'clock before the fog became heavier than yesterday.

At 11:30 o'clock this morning, the City of Victoria was blowing off Trial Island, completely enveloped in a dense blanket of fog. It was 12:15 o'clock before the ship put into her pier in the inner harbor.

The fog in the Gulf is not quite so thick and officers on steamers flying that route report that very little time on account of it is being lost. Steamers to and from Vancouver were on schedule yesterday. To-day the mist was heavier, however, and steamer arrivals and departures were held up a little.

CITY REDEEMS BONDS, USING PREPAID TAXES

Will Pay Off $254,000 of Debt This Year: $100,000 This Week

The city treasury is this week paying off $100,000 of the municipal indebtedness, using prepaid taxes for the purpose. City Treasurer Smith this morning stated that debt reduction programme of the current year calls for redemption of securities worth over $254,000, this sum being provided from tax receipts in accordance with the scheduled plan of annual reductions in the civic debt.

Of the bank loan authorized at the commencement of the current year the city has taken up $450,000 and it is the expectation of Mr. Smith that no further calls on the bank will be made. In the last two days the city has taken in over $25,500 in prepaid taxes, and a continuation of this interest will provide the city with all funds required for retirement of the securities now maturing. It is better that the taxpayers should get the six per cent interest allowed on prepaid taxes than that the city should pay 5 1/2 per cent to the bank, remarked Mr. Smith. The city's offer of six per cent interest closes on Friday evening.

TRAGIC DEATH OF LOCAL SCHOOLBOY

Richard Perry Killed While Cleaning Rifle at Seattle Home

Mrs. F. Matthew Perry of Wilmet Place was called to Seattle late on Sunday evening by news of the sudden death of her grandson, Richard Perry, older son of Dr. Richard Perry of Seattle. The death came accidentally while cleaning his twenty-two rifle, which he had brought with him from his home near Wing Point on the island with his company.

The accident to the sixteen-year-old boy was the tragic climax of an outing when he returned to Bainbridge Island with his brother George, thirteen, and a companion, Norman Stuart of Olympia, after a boat and camping trip of several days.

Richard, son of Dr. Richard W. Perry and Mrs. Beatrice Barclay Perry, both of Seattle, had been spending his vacation at his mother's summer home near Wing Point on the island with his company.

Seated on a couch with the other two boys, he was cleaning a rifle when the weapon, accidentally was discharged, sending a charge through his heart.

The rifle had been partly taken apart, and Richard had believed it empty, the other boys not being aware of the danger.

Richard Perry was born in Seattle, and attended public school in the Madison district before entering Lakeside School, a private institution in Seattle. For the last four years he had been attending University School at Victoria, B.C., where he was a promising student and distinguished himself in sports, and where he gained the highest esteem of his masters and fellow students, being one of the most popular boys in the University School.

Genuine regret will be felt in Victoria by all who knew him, and admired him for his staunch and lovable character, and profound sympathy was felt for the family in the tragic ending of so valuable a young life.

"TELL POLICE" SAYS GUNMAN TO VICTIMS

Masked Prowler is Driven to Stadacona Park; Gets No Loot

Telling his victims to call the police as they would have "their names in the papers," a masked gunman is reported to have held up two couples last night and then disappeared. His "loot" was nil.

Wearing a black mask, which covered practically all of his face, the mysterious hold-up man first appeared on the Dallas Road, where he pointed a gun at Thomas Gibson of 222 Menzies Street, with a demand for money. Mr. Gibson replied that he had none and his only companion, Miss Ada Phillips, Colquhoun Avenue, then handed over her purse.

The bandit then told Gibson to drive to Stadacona Park and the latter was forced to accede. On arrival at the park Miss Phillips was handed back her purse and the bold bandit disappeared after telling the couple to "inform the police as they would get their names in the papers to-morrow."

Chief of Police John Fry, Constables F. Woodburn, Clare and Blackstock responded to a telephone call from Gibson at 9:15 p.m., but after searching the park were unable to find any trace of the masked prowler.

After leaving Gibson the gunman had endeavored unsuccessfully to hold up two men in the park. William Hawkins of 1643 Denman Street followed him but the masked man made good his escape.

"Deadwood Dick," as he has been designated, is described by the police as a young man of about 5 feet 10 inches in height, wearing a dark blue suit. His bushy hair could be seen between his mask and cap.

PRESBYTERY IS TOLD OF PROGRESS

Presbyterian Church Growing Steadily; Rev. S. Lundie, B.A., Again Moderator

The Victoria Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church in Canada were informed at this morning's session in St. Andrew's Church of the progress of the Presbyterian Record, which now issues 41,000 copies monthly. The suggestion to have a friendly suit to determine the use of the name "Presbyterian" in Canada was not entertained, which, according to the wording of the resolution, would be to regard such action "as the unlawful use of the name."

The meeting of this morning gave considerable time to the discussion of grants to the various Mission fields within the bounds of Presbytery.

Thomas Humphries, Convener of the Budget Committee, announced that special arrangements were being made whereby the missionary work of the Church would be brought before the various congregations. The hope was expressed that a more general use of the duplex envelope would be made.

Rev. Samuel Lundie, B.A., was re-elected Moderator at the meeting held in St. Andrew's Church last evening. All the city churches were represented.

Also present: Rev. Duncan Campbell, moderator of the Synod of British Columbia; Rev. Dr. Douglas Stronach, minister, and Rev. D. A. Smith, superintendent of the work among the Chinese. One of the pioneer ministers of the Presbyterian Church in British Columbia, Rev. T. S. Glasgow, of Alberni, was specially welcomed.

Rev. J. S. Patterson and W. M. Taylor gave a very interesting report of the proceedings of the last General Assembly last evening. The sessions will conclude to-night.

FORMER RESIDENT SAYS CITY FINER THAN EVER NOW

W. P. Lindley to Spend Week in Victoria Before Motoring to Californian Home

"Victoria grows more attractive every time I visit it," was the remark made by Mr. W. P. Lindley to a Times reporter this morning. "It is a year ago that I was a visitor here, and while away can assure you that I have been in no other city which has equal attractions for my wife and self," he continued. "And the splendid climate is just as delightful as ever," added the tall, white-haired youngster of seventy, who over forty years ago was a resident of Victoria, coming here from China with his wife, an Australian lady.

Lindley, who has for most of his life since youth been an adventurer, was for some time connected with The Times when the late William Tompkins was manager. Although by profession an engineer, he is also something of a writer, especially on marine subjects, as he is a past editor of Pacific Marine Review, a publication devoted to such subjects.

Both Mrs. Lindley and myself are always pleased to come to Victoria," he said. "We have many old friends here, not the least of whom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Gardiner, and we are making a few days' stay with them this time. We shall enjoy the visit very much more, too, as my new car, Lucille III, rides so nicely over the marvellously fine and beautifully scenic roads in and around this wonderful city of the West. Victoria has a charm all its own, and one which never tires. Familiarity with the surroundings never causes surfeit, and I am sure you folks who live here must enjoy it. I know we do, very much."

"Speaking of Lucille III, she is really a Durant 65, one of the latest productions of that famous factory. I found Mr. Lovell, the Durant local dealer, very much interested in this particular model, as were many others who have seen her. She is very distinctive and has attracted considerable attention and comment on the trip up from the factory at Oakland. I looked over several Durants, and I am of the opinion that no better car of her class is built by any one but the Durant organization, all of which are up to the minute as regards speed, sturdiness and economy. The Canadian sisters of my favorite being high grade."

Mr. Lindley, who owns an orchard in the far famed Santa Clara Valley of California, will be here with his family for a week or so, and then return South, taking a leisurely run down via the Pacific Coast route through the great Redwood Forest, and the great Pacific Highway, visiting places of interest along the way, but both say that none of them compare with Victoria, where so many happy days were passed in the years ago. They both hope to make the trip several months before the day when the Great Captain will call his final roll, and believe the lovely city of their younger days will grow more attractive as time passes.

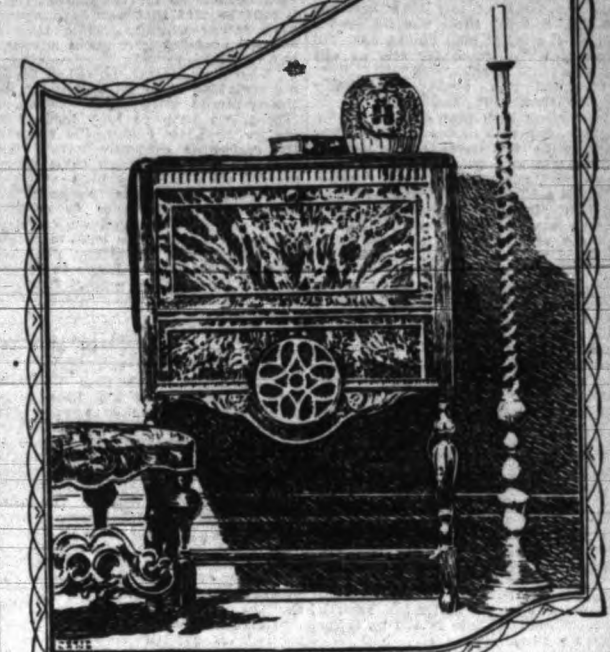

ALUMNI SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

Charles Ozard Chosen President of Victoria College Association

Charles Ozard was elected president of the Victoria College Alumni Association at the second annual meeting of the society held in the College last night. Dr. E. B. Paul was chosen honorary president, and Dr. Dunsell vice-president. The other positions were filled as follows: Secretary, John Dunsell; treasurer, Ashley Jordan; executive, J. Stewart, Jack Shadwin and Harry Des. During the evening Mr. Des and Mr. Shadwin addressed the gathering, after which a resume of the association's activities of the past year was given. A lecture was made to the lecture delivered by Dr. Sedgewick on "A Glimpse at the Philosophy of Shakespeare." From this lecture alone with the money raised by other functions were contributed to the fund which is being raised to purchase the bronze bust of Dr. Paul for the College. This bust is an excellent piece of work done by Earl W. Clark, and has received much favorable comment from all who have seen it.

STOCK MARKETS — FINANCIAL NEWS — GRAIN MARKETS

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson Brown & Co. Ltd.)

Winnipeg, Aug. 29. — Wheat: The wheat market was very stubborn to-day at around yesterday's closing prices, at one time being 1/4 lower and at another 1/4 higher. There was a slight easing of the start by exporters and for account of English millers, which took all stock out of the market, and prices held steady. Later, a little hedging pressure appeared and prices eased off but reacted again with shorts again covering. Trade volume was not large at any time and the market, though, firm, was featureless during the latter part of the day, but there was not much for sale at any time.

Liverpool was again considerably weaker than due, closing 1/4 to 1/2 higher when due. Export business overnight was said to be the best since the local cash market was very quiet. Offerings were small and spreads about unchanged. There is a little daily buying going on in this pit for account of foreign buyers, and the preferred shipment, but the volume is not as large as is usual at this season, due probably to the heavy purchase of wheat, and of which there is still a considerable quantity on this continent. About the only selling that was in evidence to-day was coming from the pool.

Outside of a few scattered showers, the weather in Western Canada has been mostly clear with higher temperatures. The new crop is beginning to move, and 144,441 bushels were delivered at country points yesterday, while sixty cars of wheat were on the inspection sheet this morning, thirty-eight being new wheat. Cutting is now general all over the West. The weather forecast was for mostly fine weather, with a few showers, and held steady most of the day, but declined during the last hour, which was reflected here, Winnipeg futures breaking two cents from the day's high and closed 1 to 1 1/2 below last night's close. We still believe it will be difficult to hold bullocks.

A WRITING BOARD

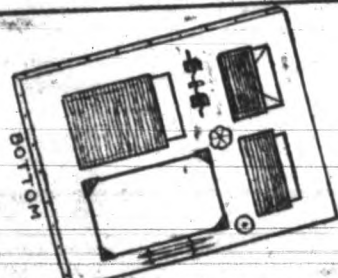

Most people who have used a writing board know how convenient it is and would be sorry to part with it. We can hold it in the lap and be independent of a table or writing desk, carry it outdoors and sit on the grass or in a boat. We shall need, for the board shown above, a piece of board cut about 12 inches by 14, and not too heavy or too thick.

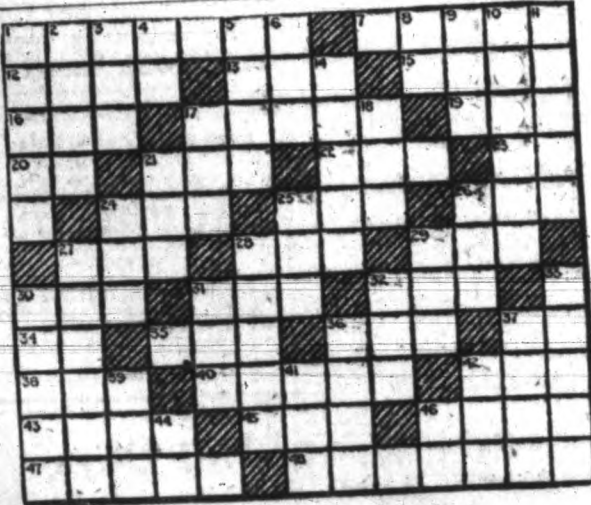

For the cover we can get waterproof cloth, choosing a pretty art color. If we prefer a green baize or felt may be used.

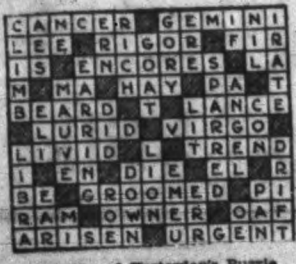

Some small brass-headed nails and a yard of broad, black elastic also will be needed. Then cover the board with the cloth, front and back.

Cut the oilcloth into pockets for note paper, envelopes and post cards. The blotting paper may be cut and folded into a pad, and elastic-nailed on to hold erasers and pens. The ink-pot can be inserted in a hollow grooved in the wood and held by elastic, or held by a strip nailed to the opposite side. The pen wiper should be tacked on.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, AUGUST 30, 1928
Astrologers read this as an unfavorable day for a malefic aspect is strongly dominant.

There is a sinister sign for all who speculate in oil and again there is hint of serious difficulties attending new enterprises.
Discoveries of resources of mineral and oil in fields not previously explored are prognosticated.
This is a rule under which deception and indirection are supposed to be encouraged by the stars. It is well to be on the lookout for double-dealing, although as a general thing a suspicious attitude should be avoided.
It is not a lucky day for beginning voyages, for delays are forecast. There may be serious storms at sea.
Water cures again will be much exploited, and the health will be a subject of much discussion, the seers declare.
Mars will be in an elevated position that inspires European war leads to exert their power, astrologers predict. Children born on this day probably will be inclined to be dreamers. These Virgo boys and girls often are exceedingly romantic. Many have psychic gifts. Poets and dramatists belong to this earth sign.
Persons whose birthdate it is have the forecast of a happy, prosperous year. Certain subjects of this sign of Virgo may become prominent in the government service, it is foretold.
